These proceedings reflect some of the outcomes of the combined efforts by the remarkable number of people who contributed to the UNEP/GEF Siberian Crane Wetland Project from its earliest planning stages through to its final months some 10 years later. The strong partnership that this project represented, spanning vast regions of Asia and levels of organization from remote rural communities to senior levels of government, was one of its key strengths. These proceedings are dedicated to everyone who was involved in this great enterprise.

Project staff at the International Crane Foundation, the Wildlife Conservation Division of the State Forestry Administration and the National Bird Banding Centre helped organized the workshop. The College of Wildlife Management of the North East Forestry University generously hosted the workshop, and the organizers are particularly grateful to Dr. Ma Jianzhang, Dean of the College and Dr. Xu Yan Chun for their personal efforts to make the workshop and related events a success. The staff of Momoge and Zhalong Nature Reserves are gratefully acknowledged for hosting the field trip, which provided a fitting and memorable end to the events, with some 2,000 Siberian Cranes at Momoge and unforgettable views over Zhalong's magnificent wetlands.

The organizers wish to thank the distinguished members of the Panel Discussion, Mr. Douglas Hykle (Chair), Mr. Max Zieren, the late Professor Wang Qishan and Mr. Noritake Ichida.

We are grateful for the significant co-financing provided by the National Fish and Wildlife Foundation/ConocoPhillips Spirit of Conservation Migratory Bird Program and by Lufthansa.
